Customers and Friends:

We are now of age. This Edition marks the twenty-first anniversary of the first publication of Parke & Parke's Almanac.

Our first place of business was on the North West Corner of York and McNab Streets. Increasing business and lack of space, forced us to move. We then moved to No. 16, Market Square, now occupied by the Molson's Bank. Again we were forced to move for the same reason as before. We bought the South East Corner of McNab Street and Market Square, which we now occupy.

Quality and Good Service pays. The customers you get by good service and quality are bound to you. Our beginning was small, but quality and good service has enabled us to build up the biggest Drug business in Canada.

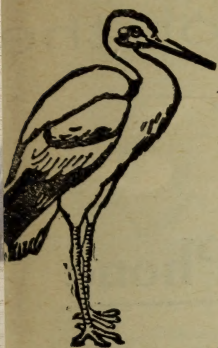

Our turnover is enormous, much more than most people would imagine. This enables us to buy in the best markets, at the best prices and often. This ensures the customer to get a better quality and fresher goods from us and at better prices as we give you the benefit of our buying powers.

Our staff is the most competent to be found anywhere. We have twenty-nine employees of which eight are graduate druggists. Our store is never without a graduate in charge, thus assuring the public of the best service.

Trusting 1915 will be a happy and prosperous year to all, we are,

Your sincerely,

PARKE & PARKE

"A WOMAN'S CROWNING GLORY IS HER HAIR"

To keep her hair in the best condition requires a great deal of care. It should be shampooed at least once a month and rubbed well.

A good vigorous rubbing with the tips of the fingers cleans out the numerous pores of the head and also stimulates the nerves in the scalp and the roots of the hair, thus allowing them to perform their proper duties.

Perfection Coconut Oil Egg Shampoo

After washing the head and drying it thoroughly,

It is a preparation of Sage, Quinine, Bitter Apple, combined with other valuable ingredients.

This should be done frequently, at least twice a week.

Try a jar of Shampoo and a bottle of Hairsage and see its benefits.

The touring car had turned upside down, burying the motorist under it, but the village constable was not to be thus lightly turned from his duty.

"It's no use your hiding there," he said, severely; "I must have your name and address."

"Willie," said the teacher, "give me three proofs that the world is actually round."

"Yes'm," said Willie cheerfully; "the book says so, you say so and Ma says so."

Captain Harry: "The major's an excellent judge of whisky."

Colonel Gore: "Yes, and a merciless executioner."

Miss Wheat, the new teacher, was hearing the history lesson. Turning to one of her scholars, she asked:

"James, what was Washington's Farewell Address?"

The new boy arose with a promptitude that promised well for his answer.

"Heaven, ma'am," he said.

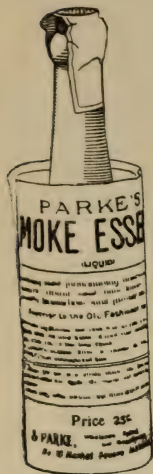

The judge looked at the prisoner keenly for a few moments, and then said:

"It strikes me forcibly I have seen your face before."

"That's where I always wear it," replied the prisoner, sullenly. Then the Court laughed, and it took some time to restore order.

"Who was that gentleman who came in just now, Mary?"

"That wasn't no gentleman, Mum. It was only the master come back for his umbrella."

The teacher wanted some plums in order to give an object lesson during school hours, and, calling one of the small boys, she gave him ten cents and dispatched him to the fruit stand on the corner.

"Before you buy the plums, Willie," she cautioned, "you had better pinch one or two to make sure they are ripe."

Little Willie flitted away. Soon he came back and smilingly put the bag on the teacher's desk.

"Oh, thank you, Willie," said the teacher, taking up the bag. "Did you pinch one or two as I told you to do?"

"Did I?" was the gleeful response. "I pinched the whole bagful and here's your ten cents."

Gentleman: "Is there any soup on the bill of fare?"
Waiter: "There was, sir, but I wiped it off."

A TESTIMONIAL

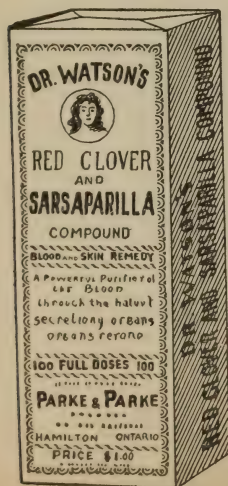

I was troubled with severe aching and shaking of my nerves; my skin was blotched and red; soreness prevailed all over my body, which was not unlike eczema. I had a great many sores in and around my ears particularly. I was in perfect misery for several years.

Having heard of Parke's wonderful remedies, I decided to see if they had any article that would suit my trouble. I was advised to try a bottle of Watson's Red Clover and Sarsaparilla.

After having given it a fair trial I was convinced of a wonderful improvement in myself. My nerves were strengthened; my skin rapidly became clear and I felt a wonderful improvement in my whole system. I am still using this remedy and I feel practically a new man to-day.

"How do you like your new home?" a friend asked a man who had recently moved into the village.

"Pretty well."

"Have you called on your neighbors yet?"

"No," the newcomer admitted, "I haven't. But I'm going to if any more of my wood is missing."

When a clergyman announced that there would be a nave in the church an old lady whispered that she "knew the party to whom he referred."

"I beg pardon," said the reporter, "but are you Mr. Spudde, the potato king?"

"Yes, but I don't like that term," replied the magnate, testily. "Oil kings and cattle kings and he like are so common. Call me a potatontate."

The following conversation took place during a county court case in the North.

"I tell you candidly, I don't believe a word of your wife's story," said the judge to one man.

"Yer may do as yer like," replied the latter, mournfully, "but I've got to."

A young doctor said to a girl:

"Do you know, dear, I have a heart affection for you?"

"Have you had it lung?" she coyly inquired.

"Oh, yes; I feel that I will liver troubled life without you," he fervently responded.

"Then you had better asthma," she softly murmured.

Facts Worth Knowing

The number of bulbs which have been planted this season in the Royal Gardens at Hampton Court Palace exceed a million, the weight being between two and three tons. There are 140 beds, with an average of about 3,000 bulbs to a bed; while the great 10-ft. border, which extends from the river to the Hampton Court Road, takes more than the whole of the beds.

Seven pounds is the weight of the ordinary brick, and a load consists of 500 bricks.

There are twenty-four bishops entitled to rank as members of the House of Lords.
